Is,am, are to (infinitive)

Def:1 is,am,are to are used when an action is about to take place.

Def:2 to show a work for which we have already decided to do something.

Formation

Subject +tobe verb+(infinitive)verb+object

He is to learn English (he has decided to learn English)

They are to start work (they have decided to start work)

Was ,were to are used for the past.

Note: {about to}, and{ going to} can be used instead of is ,am,are to , but in spoken English we use gonna instead of going to ,we can use going to as well but gonna is contraction of going to

Was ,were to both are used as like is ,am,are to, but was ,were to are used inxa the past

Examples:1) he was to come yesterday but he could not come(he decided to come yesterday but he didn't come)

2)we were about to go to our school but our father didn't let us go there.

Like/alike

like :we use like when one thing/person is similar to another thing or person .

formation:

subject+	verb+	like	object.
this book	is	like	that book.
They	talk	like	eachother.

ALIKE:we use alike as like likebut it is used at the end of sentence, or when we do something like another person,or similar in appearance or form.

Formation:1

Subject+ objec+ verb+ alike.

These two books are alike.
My all freinds are alike.
their style of talking is alike.

Formation:2

Subject+ tobe verb+ m.verb + alike.

They are teaching alike.
They look alike.
My friends talk alike.
These teachers are laughing alike.

Note: (alike) is used for more than one person or thing.

Has to ,have to (infinitive) =present

Def:1 we use has to, have to, had to, and will have to or shall have to when there is an external force on the subject to do something.

Def:2 we use have to(do) and more to say that is necessary to do something.

Examples:1 you have to have a passport to visit most foreign countries.(you must have a passport to visit most foreign countries)

2 oh, it is late , I have to go now. (I must go now)

Formation:

Subject+ has to/have to + verb(first form+ object.

I have to learn English.

You have to come here . (someone forces him or her to come here)

Note: Use had to for the past and will have to or shall have to for the future otherwise formation will remain the same which is written above.

Examples: He had to go to New York ,but he couldn't go there.(past)

She will have to learn cooking any how.

Difference between must and have to.

With must the speaker is expressing personal feelings ,saying what he or she thinks is necessary .

Example: I must write to ann. I haven't written to her for ages.(=the speaker personally feels that he or she must write to ann.)

With have to the speaker is not expressing feelings ,the speaker is just giving facts .

Example: his eyes are not very good he has to wear glasses for reading.

Mustn't and don't have to are completely. " you mustn't do something" means "it is necessary that you do not do it".

Example:I promised I'd be on time . I mustn't be late (=I must be on time).

“ You don't have to do something” means it is not necessary to do it; you don't need to it.

Example: I don't have to wear a suit to work ,but I usually do.

Note: you can use have got to instead of have to .

Example: I have got to work tomorrow . or I have to work tomorrow.

Both have same meaning you can use either “have got to” or “have to”.

Note : we use do/does/did with have to in a questions and negative sentences:

Examples: why did you have to go to the hospital? (not “had you to go to the hospital”)

Tom doesn't have to work on Saturday .(not “hasn't to work”)

Look forward to + ing form

Look forward to means wait for someone or something ,or to anticipate with pleasure or satisfaction.

If a verb comes after look forward to then verb is always used in ing form. such as comeing,meeting,seeing etc.

Sometimes verb doesn't come after look forward to and another word comes instead of verb .

Examples: we are looking forward to the president (we are waiting for the president)

Formation:

Subject+ tobe verbs+ look forward to +verb(ing form)+object

I                    was                    looking forward to    seeing                    you.

He                    always                    looks forward to    meeting                    rich people.

The children    are                    looking forward to                    their parents.

They                    are still                    looking forward to    going to                    America.

Note:in third sentence verb has not been used after look forward to.

Short prohibitions

Short prohibitions are used when someone is not allowed to do something.

For example: no parking = parking is not allowed.

If you say no blame or not blame ,not to blame then it would be wrong, instead say no blaming.

Formation:

No+ verb(ing form)

No smoking. = smoking is not allowed

No spitting. = spitting is not allowed

No copying. = copying is not allowed

No drinking. = drinking is not allowed

No meeting. = meeting is not allowed

Anyone (one word)

“anyone” is an indefinite pronoun, it refers to one person not a specific person.

Examples: does anyone know what time it is?

Anyone can learn English = not a particular person

Can anyone answer this question?

Anyone can come with me.

Any one (two words)

“Any” and “one” are two words, it is an adjective phrase, and it means = single item / member of a group of people / things.

Examples: I would like to drive any one of those cars.

Any one of you can come with me.

I'll have any one of those cookies.

Usage of “by”

1)by = very close/beside/at the side of/next to.

Ex: He lives by a river/I live by airport.

2)by = to describe travel:

by train/by bus/by car/by plane.

Ex: She went to London by plane.

3)by = to describe communication.

by phone,by email,by post,by fax.

Ex: contact us by phone.

4)by = to describe method of payment.

By credit card, by cheque.

Ex: I'd like to pay by credit card.

5)by +reflexive pronoun=to do something alone.

Myself ,yourself ,himself, herself, itself ,ourselves ,yourselves ,themselves.

Ex: He visited London by himself.

You should go by yourself.

6)by +ing form = how to do something.

Ex: students can improve their vocabulary by reading.

7)by +time expression =not later than ,before or at a particular time.

Ex:you must leave the hotel room by Friday.

By and until

Use by if a single event will happen before that point.

Ex: I will send you the information by Friday(before Friday)

Use until if a continuous event will continue and then stop at that point.

Ex:our guests will stay until 9:00 pm. (continuously until 9:00 pm,they will leave at 9:00 pm).

8)by is used to show the person or thing that does something.

Ex: He is reading some short stories (written by) faraz.

Hire ,rent and let.

“rent” and “hire” mean to pay for the use of something.

“rent” is used to talk about a long-term arrangement.

Ex: rent a house /a flat/a tv.

“hire” is used to talk about a short-term arrangement.

Eg: hire a car/a bike/a suit.

Note: in American english “rent” can be used for both long and short arrangements.

In American english the word “hire” means to employ somebody.

Been and gone

Been = to talk complete visits.

Ex: she has been to paris (means She visited and then she returned)

Gone = someone has gone to somewhere but he or she is still there,he or she hasn't returned yet.

Ex: she has gone to paris (means she is still in paris)

All , every, and each

All = means “total” it is used to talk about the total number of things.

Ex: All men are equal.

Every = it is used to talk collectively things more than individually .it means each and all.

Ex: every artist is sensitive.

Each = it refers to individual members of a group ,one at a time.

Ex: each artist sees things differently.

Common expressions in English

Fed up= to have had enough

Feel like = want to do something

Just about = nearly

Keep on=continue

Make up your mind= decide

Never mind=don't worry about it

In hand = under control

Out of shape = to be unfit

Out of order= doesn't work.

Journey and trip

Journey (noun) = single piece of travel when someone moves from one place to another place by car, plane ,bus ,train etc.

Ex: The journey to London takes 3 hours by bus.

Trip (noun) = it usually refers to more than one journey, and the time someone spends there.

Ex: how was your trip? (asking about the whole time you are way not the journey)

A trip = often shorter than a holiday

A business trip

A school trip

A day trip.

Sometime, sometimes, and some time.

Sometime: at unspecified time in the future.

Ex: let's catch up sometime I want to hear more about you.

Sometimes: occasionally, rather than all of the time.

Ex: sometimes, the truth is not good enough.

Some time: a period of time

Ex: the dog is going to take some time to wrap up.

Come what may = whatever happens

It is very useful phrase it is used when someone doesn't want to give up even in difficult time.

Formation:

Come what may + subject+ h. verb + m.verb + object + extension.

Come what may I will go to school today.

Come what may you have to finish your work in half an hour.

Come What May I Will Stand By You.

It Is Easy To Say Or It Is Difficult/Hard To Say

This Structure Shows General Statements Without Referring To Anybody.

FORMATION:

IT IS EASY/DIFFICULT/HARD TO SAY

It Is Easy To Say But Difficult To Do.

It Hard To Learn Mathematics.

It Is Easy To Speak English .

It Is Easy To Teach But Difficult To Make Understand.

Rather Than, Would Rather, Had Rather , And Had Better

RATHER THAN: Instead Of Something Or In Preference To.

EX: I Would Like To Stay At Home Tonight Rather Than Go Out With You.

WOULD RATHER: You Prefer To Have Or Do One Thing More Than An Other.

EX: I Would Rather Work Outside Than Have To Be In An Office All Day.

HAD RATHER: Prefer To Do Something.

EX: I Had Rather Not See Him.

HAD BETTER: Used To Give Advice Or Tell People What To Do.

EX: You Had Better Stay Here Until The Storm Passes.

As if it is used to show someone or something looks /sounds/feels etc.

Ex: the house looked as if no body was living in it.

Ann sounds as if she's got a cold.

Compare: you look tired. (look +adjective)

You look as if you haven't slept . (look+as if +subject+verb)

Tom sounded worried.(sound + adjective)

Tom sounded as if he was worried .(sound+as if+subject+verb)

You can use as though instead of as if.

Ex: Ann sounds as though she's got a cold.

You can also say it looks/sounds/smells as if (or as though)

Ex: Tom is very late ,isn't he? It looks as if he isn't coming.

We took an umbrella because it looked as if it was going to rain.

Do you hear that music next door? It sounds as if they are having party.

After it looks /sounds/smells, many people use like instead of as if /as though.

Ex: it looks like Tom isn't coming.

You can also use as if with other verbs to say how someone does something.

Ex: He ran as if he were running for his life.

When she told them her plan ,they looked at her as if she were insane.

After as if we sometimes use the past when we are talking about the present .

Ex: I don't like faraz . he talks as if he knew everything.

The meaning is not past in this sentence ,we use the past ("as if he knew") because the idea is not real: faraz doesn't know everything. We use the past in the same way in if sentences and after wish.

Note: when you use the past in this way, you use were instead of was:

Ex: They treat me as if I were (or was)their own son.(I'm not their son)

Suppose /supposed to

The word suppose means something like think,believe, imagine or expect.

Ex:I supposed his interview went well.

Just suppose for a moment that you agreed with me.

The expression supposed to refers to a rule ,it means something should have / should be done ,but it was not (or it is not usually )done.

Ex: I was supposed to go to work today,but I'm sick so I stayed home.
We were supposed to park our cars in the company garage, but most people just park on the street.

Answer/reply/respond

These verbs have essentially the same meaning.

Answer an email

Reply an email

Respond an email

1)When someone calls you ,you answer the phone (or pick up the phone)

2)when you make a statement or some comments, you usually say the other person replies or responds.

3)when we ask a question , we usually say the other person answer. However this is not 100%

Reply and respond can also be used for answering the question.

Note: when these words are used as a noun (with a,an, the possessive pronouns or adjectives like my,your,his,her etc. the word answer and reply don't change, but the noun form of repond is response.

Ex: he answered my question, but I didn't understand his answer.

(verb)

(noun)

We are waiting for a reply from the customer ,but he haven't replied to us yet.

(noun)

(verb)

She responded to him , and her response to his comment was brilliant.

(verb)

(noun)

Remember that respond is also a noun .

In the habit of

This phrase is used when someone is habitual of doing something.

Ex: He is in the habit of boasting.(he is habitual of boasting)

Faraz is in the habit of telling lie. (faraz is habitual of telling lie)

Note: ing form of the verb is used after of.

You can also use habitual of.

Ex: He is habitual of singing songs.

They are habitual of deceiving .

Use helping verb+ Used to + ing form

Ex: we are used to tolerating him.

Are you used to waking up early in the morning?

Note: this structure can be used in the past too.

Ex: He was not used to smoking.

They were used to fighting with each other.

Remember that used to is also shows habits in the past, but both structures are not alike.

Compare:

He used to go to school by bus. (he + used to + verb base form)

He was used to going to school by bus(was used to+ing form).

Enough and too

Enough goes after adjectives and adverbs.

Ex: she can't get married yet. She's not old enough.

you won't pass the exam ,if you don't work hard enough.

Enough goes before nouns:

Ex: He didn't get job because he didn't have enough experience.(not experience enough)

I want to buy books ,but I don't have enough money.

you can also use enough alone (without a noun).

Ex: I'll lend you some money if you don't have enough.

After enough and too you can say for someone /something.

Ex: He wasn't experienced enough for the job.

This shirt is too big for me, I need smaller size.

But we do not usually say "enough/too...for doing something. "We use infinitive after enough and too. So we say "enough money to do something" "old enough to do something" "too young to do something", etc.

Ex: There weren't enough chairs for everyone to sit down.

She spoke too quickly for us to understand.

We say:

The food was so hot that we couldn't eat it.

And : the food was very hot we, we couldn't eat it.

Or we say:

The food was too hot to eat.(without "it")

Here are some more examples like this.

- That picture is too heavy to hang on the wall.
- I had to carry my wallet in my hand ,it was too big to put in my pocket.
- The water wasn't clean enough to swim in.

In spite of and despite in spite of and despite are prepositional expressions ,in spite of and despite have a similar meaning to Although or even though .they express a contrast between two things, both are more common in writing than in speaking . Despite is a little more formal than in spite of .

we usually use in spite of and despite with a noun .

- We went to the party despite the bad weather outside.

Warning:

We don't use a that clause after in spite of or despite, we use in spite of the fact that or despite the fact that .

Ex: when they arrive at London it was hot, in spite of the fact that it was only the end of April.

Not : in spite of that

They enjoyed the rides in spite of the long queues.(or despite the long queues)

Note: in spite of is written as three separate words, we never use of with despite.

It takes

It used to show time, or when someone tells time for doing something.

It takes (present)

Formation:

it takes +object+ minutes, hours, time, days, week, month, year, time +to +verb +object.

It takes me 45 minutes to take the class.

It takes her 1 week to reach London.

it took (past)

it took +object+ minutes, hours, time, days, week, month, year, time +to +verb +object.

It took him 2 years to learn English.

It took us 2 hours to make speech.

It will take (future)

It will take +object+ minutes, hours, time, days, week, month, year, time +to +verb +object.

It will take you 3 days to learn cooking.

It will take them half an hour to read this book.

Note: you can use this structure in different ways.

- You take so much time to get ready. (subject+take +so much+to+verb+object)
- It takes time to learn English. (it takes +time+to+verb+object)

5 uses of “get”

1) Get = buy/obtain

Ex: I got a new mobile.

2) Get = receive

Ex: I have just got a message.

3) Get = become (with adjectives)

Ex: I'm getting tired.

4) Get = understand

Ex: I don't get it.

5) Get = arrive

Ex: I need to get home early.

Since and for

Since and for are used to say how long something has been happening.

- I have been waiting for you since 8 o'clock.
- I have been waiting for you for two hours.

Since is used to show point of time or definite time/starting point of time in the past up to now.

For is used to show duration of time or period of time start to end.

since	for
8 o'clock	Two hours
Monday	Ten minutes
May	Three days
1977	Six months
Lunch time	A week
Morning	A long time
We arrived	Five years

Still and yet

We use still to say that a situation or action is continuing .still usually goes in the middle of the sentence with the verb .

- Do you still want to go to the party .or have you changed your mind?
- When I went to bed , Ann was still working.

We use yet when we ask if something has happened or when we say that something has not happened .we use yet mainly in questions and negative sentences. Yet usually goes at the end of the sentence.

- I'm hungry. is dinner ready yet?
- have you finished your homework yet?

We often use yet with the present perfect (“have you finished writing that letter yet?”)

Now compare still and yet in these sentences:

- Jack lost his job a year ago and he is still unemployed.
- Jack lost his job a year ago and hasn't found another job yet.
- is it still raining?
- Has it stopped raining yet?

Still is also possible in negative sentences .

- He said he would be here an hour ago .and he still hasn't come,
- He said he would be here an hour ago .and he hasn't come yet.

No longer / any longer / anymore.

We use not ... anymore, not ...any longer and no longer to say that situation has changed
Anymore and any longer go at the end of the sentence:

- Mr. David doesn't work here anymore (or any longer). He left about six months ago.
- we were good friends once .but we aren't friends anymore (or any longer).

No longer goes in the middle of sentence.

- We are no longer friends.
- She no longer loves him.

We do not normally use no more in this way:

He is no longer a student .(not he is no more a student.)

between and Among

Between and among both are prepositions and also adverbs they have same meaning but different use.

Between is used with two persons and two things.

- He stood between his mother and his father.
- He was dancing between faraz and sheeraz.

Among is used with more than two persons or two things.

- This house is nestled among the trees.
- The ball was hidden among the leaves.

Like and as

Like = similar to /the same as

- He's a teacher like me (not as me)
- It's raining again, I hate weather like this.
- What a beautiful it's like a palace.(not as a palace)
- Why do you always talk about boring things like your job?
- Be careful the floor was just waxed, it's like walking on ice.

Like is a preposition .so it is followed by a noun ("like a place/like your job"),a pronoun("like me/like this"), or ing form ("like walking")

You can also say "like (someone /something) ing form"

- "what's that noise?" "it sounds like a baby crying".

We use as before a subject + verb:

- Don't move anything . leave everything as it is.

Compare like and as in these sentences:

- You should have done it like this .(like + pronoun)
- You should have done it as I showed you .(as + subject + verb)

As +subject+verb can have meanings.

- Do as you are told (=Do what you are told.)
- They did as they promised .(they did what they promised.)

You can also say as you know/as we expected /as I said /as I thought,etc.

- As you know , it's tom's birthday next week.(=you know this already)
- Ann failed her driving test,as we expected .

As can also be a preposition (which means you can use it with a noun),but the meaning is different from like.

We use like when compare things:

- She looks beautiful like a princess.(she isn't really a princess)
- Everyone is sick at home ,our house is like a hospital .(it isn't really a hospital )

We use as +noun to say what something really is or was (especially when we talk about someone's job or how we use something.):

- A few years ago he worked as a waiter.(he really was a waiter)
- The new of her death came as a great shock .(it really was a shock)
- Faraz has just found a job as a sales clerk.

Beside and Besides

Beside is a preposition. It means next to.

- He sat beside her.
- There was a small table besides the bed, on which there was a book.

Besides is a preposition and also an adverb. It means in addition to or also.

- Who was there besides you?
- What other types of music do you like besides classical?

Advise and Advice

Advise is a verb which means to give advice.

- He advised me to learn English.
- She needed someone to advise her.

Advice is a noun .it means an opinion or suggestion about what someone should do.

- My advice is to sell your old car and get a new one.
- He needs advice from an expert.

Note: in advise s is pronounced like z and in advice c is pronounced like s .

Note: “Advice” is uncountable noun you cannot say Advices or an Advice.

Instead you can say “The Advice” or “Some Advice”

If you want to make it singular you would say “ A Piece Of Advice” or “ advice”.

“other” and “an other”

Other means additional , or extra ,different , the second of two things.

- I can't find my other shoe.(second shoe)
- Have you got any other question?(different)

An other = an + other means one more , adiitional , an alternative .

- Could I have another cup of coffee? (one more cup)
- That's another way of saying the same thing.

Especially and Specially

Especially and specially both are adverbs.

Especially means in particular /most of all.

- I like food , but I especially like sandwiches.(this means I particularly like sandwiches sandwiches are my favourite)
- He was especially concerned about the contract.

Specially means for a special purpose .

- The speech was written specially for the occasion.
- This sandwich was specially made.(it was made in a special way) (for me)

Affect and Effect

Affect is a verb , and it means to influence or to change something or someone.

- The rain might affect their picnic.
- Will the new rules affect me?

Effect is a noun ,and it means the result or consequence.

- The effect of the rain was I got wet.
- He just did it for effect.

Expect and Hope

We use expect to say that we believe that something will happen.

Expect + object = she is expecting a second baby.

Expect + to + infinitive = we expect to move into our new flat next week.

Expect + that = we expect that the guest house would have much better room.

Expect + object + to + infinitive = the company expects her to be early.

Note: Expect also means “think” or “suppose” when expect has this meaning we do not commonly use it in continuous form.

Note: when we expect that something will not happen or is not true ,expect is most commonly used in negative form.

Ex: I don't expect she will pass the exam .(I expect she won't pass the exam) we use hope when we do not know whether something will happen or not but we want it to happen.

Hope + to (infinitive) = He was hoping to see his family next week.

Hope + that = I hope that your brother recovers quickly from the operation.

Hope + for = They have already got two boys so they are hoping for a girl.

Note: we use hope to express good intentions and wishes for the future.

Ex: I hope we can see each other soon. Not I wish .....

I hope you enjoy your stay in London. Not I wish .....

Every day (two words) and Everyday (one word)
